MEET THE Maplelea Girls

One summer Taryn, Brianne, Alexi, and Jenna happened to meet during an incredible adventure they'll never forget. Before returning to their hometowns across Canada, they pledged to remain friends forever. They even chose a name for themselves—the Maplelea Girls.

When Alexi went on a class trip to Québec, she met Léonie and invited her to join the group.

Jenna travelled to Iqaluit with her marine biologist Dad who was doing research on Arctic Char. A girl named Saila invited Jenna to join in a soccer game being played on the snow.

Taryn went to see a documentary about Spirit Bears showing at the Banff Mountain Film Festival and there she met a girl from BC named Charlsea whose parents had made the film.

Taryn, Brianne, Alexi, Jenna, Léonie, Saila and Charlsea are all very different—they like different foods, activities, sports, school subjects, colours and more. And, they each have a unique personal fashion style!

However, there are some things they all have in common—they are all bright, caring, energetic Canadian Girls who think Canada is one terrific country!

In their hometowns, and in places across Canada, the Maplelea Girls explore, have adventures, make friends, help others, and have fun!

The details on the Alexi doll are impeccable! Her little dimples, silky hair, and adorable expression are perfection. Her collection is so well done and my favourite from the Maplelea Girls.!

Hello!

Twenty-three years ago, Maplelea set out to make dolls with real quality, real design, and real stories, no glitter required. Today, we're so glad a growing number of our American friends are discovering exactly that.

Many of you first found us through the online doll community, perhaps choosing a pair of shoes or an outfit for a doll you already own, and then discovering the detail and realism Maplelea brings to the 18-inch doll world. Our clothes are designed to look like what real kids (and real adventurers) actually wear, because we believe play should feel authentic.

We know there are extra costs these days for our American customers, and we don't take that lightly. But so many of you have told us that when you do the math, Maplelea still comes out ahead, and that means everything to us.

Whether this is your first Maplelea catalogue or you've been with us for years, thank you for welcoming us into your collection and your community.

Warmly,

Kathryn Gallagher Morton, BSW, MBA
